The Library provides features to enhance your EBSCO searches. There are options for Journal/Table of Contents Alerts and Search Alerts. An Ask a MassBay Librarian link, and a link to request articles through interlibrary loan.

Once you create a MyEBSCOhost account you can create email “Journal Alerts.” Select the journal you wish to be notified about and when a new issue is available you will be notified via email. The email will include the Table of Contents of the new issue. Also, after you’ve conducted a search, you can create a “Search Alert.” EBSCO will run the search periodically and you will receive an email with any new results. To learn more about this feature, go to: http://massbay.libguides.com/alerts

Another new great feature is the option to request an article through interlibrary loan. If an article appears in your search but we do not have the full text available online, you can click on the “Request this item through interlibrary loan” link and complete the steps to have the article sent to you via email. For questions on these features or any other reference needs, come to the library reference desk.

8. Mating Modifies Female Life History in a Haplodiploid Spider Mite.

By: Macke, Emilie; Magalhães, Sara; Hong Do-Thi Khanh; Frantz, Adrien; Facon, Benoît; Olivier, Isabelle. American Naturalist. May 2012. Vol. 179 Issue 5, pE147-E162. *E162, 1 Diagram, 2 Charts, 8 Graphs. DOI: 10.1086/665002. Database: Academic Search Premier

Featured Library Section: Career Collection

Article by: Shayna Tessa Erickson
Where are you headed after MassBay? Looking to transfer to a four-year college or are you ready to enter the workforce? Either way, the Career Section of the library is a great resource to help you get moving in the right direction!

Located next to the Ready Reference, the Career Section has encyclopedias for career and vocational guidance. It also includes a collection of guides for researching four-year/two-year colleges, preparing for job interviews, and building career-specific resumes and cover letters.

The collection specifically has many handbooks for the Nursing and Allied Health students. Other unique topics include support for veterans and students with disabilities. Most books in the the collection are titles that you can borrow for 21 days. Learn more at http://massbay.libguides.com/career
When you sign up for classes, whether enrolled in one course or full-time, you are issued a library card number. If you have a ONE Card, your barcode is on the back of that. You can also look up your library card number in Bay Navigator, the MassBay self-service information site. A link is located at the bottom of any MassBay webpage. Login to Bay Navigator then enter “Library Card” in the search box. The results will give you a link to your 14 digit Library Card Number.

MassBay Library is part of the Minuteman Library Network. You can use your library card number to login to your Minuteman account, request materials, access databases from home, and much more.

For more information about your library card, go to: http://massbay.libguides.com/librarycard

Have a suggestion for the library or the newsletter? Let us know! We’d love to hear from you!